- Fortune Magazine as one of the 25 Best Medium Companies to Work for in America in 2005, 2008, and 2012.

Mr. Martore was selected as a finalist for the Ernst & Young Entrepreneur of the Year Award, and was named Greater Washington Government Contractor Executive of the Year ($75M - $300M category) in 2013.

Mr. Martore joined CALIBRE in March 2004 as part of its acquisition of Strategic Management Initiatives, Inc. (SMI), which he co-founded and served as President & CEO. SMI was twice included in the Inc. 500 list as one of the fastest growing privately held companies in America. Mr. Martore was also a Principal founder and President of Management Strategies, Inc., and was a Senior Vice President of the publicly traded Tintera Corporation, serving as the Chief Operating Officer of its Government Services subsidiary. Prior to these executive positions, he served at the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

Mr. Martore is a member of the MIT Corporation Development Committee and the MIT Institute for Data, Systems, and Society External Advisory Board, through which he has endowed a teaching award and a humanitarian logistics fund. He serves on the Boards of Directors for Easter Seals Serving DC | MD | VA; the Professional Services Council (PSC); the Northern Virginia Chamber of Commerce; and the Laurel Grove School Museum Association. Mr. Martore is also a member of the George Mason University School of Business Dean's Advisory Council. In 2014, the Lido Civic Club of Washington, D.C., an Italian-American civic organization, named Mr. Martore its Man of the Year for his longstanding commitment to supporting children and adults with special needs. He is an invited guest lecturer at the George Mason Graduate School of Business and the Veteran Institute for Procurement.

Mr. Martore received B.S. and M.S. degrees in Civil Engineering from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and an M.B.A. from the George Washington University. He is a Registered Professional Engineer.

Mr. Martore and his wife, Gracia, have two children.
