John Song

John Song is a Managing Director in Houlihan Lokey's Aerospace•Defense•Government (ADG) Group, the leading M&A advisor to aerospace, defense, government services, and homeland security companies. As a senior banker within the ADG group, Mr. Song has a particular focus in working with government services and defense technology companies, covering strategic areas including C4ISR, Federal healthcare, and cyber security. Representative transactions include the recapitalization of OGSys with General Catalyst Partners; the divestiture and sale of G4S Government Solutions to A&M Capital; the sale of DataTactics to L-3; the sale of Secure Mission Solutions to Parsons Corporation; and the sale of SRA International to Providence Equity Partners. Mr. Song is based in the firm's Washington, D.C., office.

Prior to working at Houlihan Lokey, Mr. Song spent several years working in structured finance at firms such as Credit Suisse First Boston, Deutsche Bank and Bankers Trust.

Mr. Song holds a BA from Boston University and an MBA from the University of Chicago.
