Alex Castelli, CPA, is a partner at CohnReznick and he has more than 25 years of experience in managing audit, accounting, and reporting issues of both public and development stage entities. Alex is actively involved in providing these services to his entrepreneurial client base.

Alex also is the Firm's Technology and Life Sciences Industry Practice Leader. The clients served by this Practice include middle-market companies ranging from early stage and emerging growth companies to venture- and private equity-backed companies and later-stage public companies. Alex plays an active role in all aspects of his engagements, including pre-engagement planning, interviews and fieldwork, data analysis, identifying and resolving financial reporting issues, and presentations to management and shareholders. He has been involved in a number of due diligence projects, internal control assessments, going public and private transactions, secondary offerings, and other-SEC filings. Alex also serves as a member of the Firm's Public Companies Group.

Alex began his career in public accounting with a Big Four accounting firm and also served as a controller for a national retail clothing chain. This experience provided him with a pragmatic perspective that enables him to better understand and advise his clients. Additionally, Alex is frequently quoted in the media on middle market liquidity and capital raising issues, including: crowdfunding, access to capital, and the various components of the JOBS Act.
